

STEFANIA RIGO

Business Coach & Speaker

Are you looking for a speaker who runs her own successful business and relates to your audience in an authentic way?

Stefania shares her journey as a woman entrepreneur with vulnerability; she inspires, motivates and makes a lasting impact on her audience. She is passionate about supporting women in their leadership development and business growth.

Prior to starting her coaching business, Stefania launched two brands that grew into seven figure businesses. Stefania holds a Masters in Psychological Counseling, and has 30 years of experience in small business development, leadership and sales. In addition to public speaking she is passionate about her podcast Lead Without Limits. She is a natural leader who stands for change in her community. She has served on several non-profit boards, including the International Coaching Federation (ICF) Greater Austin Chapter.

When she is not leading powerful conversations about business, Stefania loves to travel, cook, read and spend time with family, friends and her dog.
